Presidential Appeal Delays Airline Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top government officials worked today to stave off a threatened midnight strike of pilots on Pan American World Airways.

An 11th-hour appeal by President Kennedy brought postponement at least until midnight of a strike that had been threatened last night.

Representatives of the air line and the Air Line Pilots Association assumed their talks this morning, with some indications of progress.

Under secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz reported privately on the situation this morning to Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

Pan American already has agreed to Kennedy's proposal that the touchy issue of jet flight crews be placed before three arbitrators named by the President.

The union still is considering the plan after postponing for 24 hours a strike by 1,400 Pan Am pilots.

The President's dramatic bid to avert a walkout he said would be "deplorable and unnecessary" came after hours of efforts by Goldberg to obtain a settlement ended in failure Monday night.

Kennedy stepped into the dispute with a declaration that "this shut-down of one of our most important carriers is unnecessary and should not occur."

He asked union and management to submit their dispute to "final and binding impartial arbitration."

Kennedy chose Dr. George Taylor of the University of Pennsylvania, President George Meany of the AFL-CIO and President Edgar Kaiser of Kaiser Industries, Inc., to serve as arbitrators.

The flight crew issue—Kennedy called it a "vexing problem"—involves Pan American's desire to cut the basic crew of jet airliners from four to three men.

Negotiations also have covered wages, hours and working conditions.

Another union, the Flight Engineers International Association, also is involved in the crew dispute.

Neither union wants the personnel sliced from jet crews to be men it represents.

Criticized JFK, Placed on Trial

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP) — An Army reservist facing a court-martial because he criticized his commander-in-chief, President Kennedy, is confident he will be exonerated.

"I can see nothing wrong with a man expressing an honest opinion to a senator," Pfc. Larry D. Chidester, 24, of Salt Lake City, said Monday.

"I've always felt a man has a right to voice his opinion on his country. That is what this country runs on."

Chidester, an automotive mechanic with the 115th Ordnance Co., has been charged by the Army with violating the uniform code of military justice by soliciting and encouraging men in his unit to sign a letter critical of the President. The court-martial tentatively is set for April 23.

The letter, signed by 75 members of the 100-man company, was sent to Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah.

Bennett issued a statement in Washington defending what he called the rights of Guardsmen to gripe and write letters to members of Congress.

In one portion of the letter, Chidester asked if Kennedy "liked expenditures of great proportions which he allocates freely or does he think the jobs left open by our callup will re-elect him on the basis of low unemployment."

Bennett said the strong language of the letter should be viewed in the light of circumstances. He said it was written before the August release date for the Guardsmen had been announced.

The annual meeting of the Hempstead County Cattlemen's Assn. will be at 7 p.m. Thursday, April 19, according to Monroe Samuel, president. This annual event will be held at the Experiment Station. Members of the Cattlemen's Assn. are invited to attend and bring their family to the barbecue supper.

Church Kicks Out Three in Race Issue

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican firmly backs an American Roman Catholic archbishop's excommunication of three segregationists, informed sources said today.

Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel of New Orleans, La., was declared to have—as do all bishops and archbishops of the Church—full authority for his action.

"The fact that he took it," one source said, "indicates he probably had no alternative."

The same sources recalled that the archbishop's fight against racism in his archdiocese was of long standing. The Vatican's L'Osservatore Romano, on Oct. 18, 1955, in a stern editorial entitled "Stains of Race," approved his action in defending a Negro priest who had been prevented from saying Mass.

The fight of the segregationists could find no sympathy in the Vatican, whose pontiffs have frequently spoken against racial actions.

These sources also pointed out that the College of Cardinals now includes Negroes and the number of Negro bishops and archbishops in recent years has exceeded 50. There are many Negro priests and nuns.

Cannon Law 335 directs bishops to govern their dioceses in spiritual and temporal matters and states they have legislative, judicial and punitive powers.

Man's Farm Goes on Sale Today

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Embattled rice farmer James Weir of Dermott, whose farm is scheduled to go up for sale today, was denied an injunction Monday to stop the sale.

Weir's petition to federal District Court to halt the sale was denied by District Judge J. Smith Henley.

Weir, who has fought the Department of Agriculture for years over crop allotments, sought the delay while he appeals a judgment assessed for overplanting his 1959 allotment.

He was told he could stop the sale by posting $23,000 bond to cover the amount of judgment, interest and court costs, but refused.

The sale is planned at the Chicot County Courthouse at Lake Village.

$560 Millions to Agency Emergencies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has voted federal agencies $560,000,334 in emergency funds for operations ranging from disaster relief to space research.

Also in the supplemental appropriation measure was $25,616,000 for the U.S. share of the U.N. Congo assessment for the period up to June 30.

The bill passed by a voice vote Monday, must go to a conference with the House for an adjustment of differences.

The measure carries $85 million in extra funds for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to provide additional research and development funds for the Saturn, the Centaur and liquid propulsion programs.

An additional $71 million is to go into land acquisition and construction in the Atlantic missile range launching area and into the Mississippi test facility for the launching and testing of large rocket vehicles for sending a man to the moon.

The measure provides $25 million for disaster relief in presidential emergency funds for East Coast storm damages and for flood damage in other areas. It also carries $90 million for the Small Business Administration, of which $15 million would go for disaster loans.

The bill has $15,707,000 in operating funds and $7,092,000 in construction funds for school districts crowded with children of federal employees.

It would raise funds available for student loans by $15,155,000.

Politicians Have Duty to Public Too

By LYLE WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There was in President Kennedy's denunciation of the steel industry one special paragraph that need be changed only a little to mean something else again entirely.

The President's paragraph began like this:

"If this rise in the cost of steel is initiated by the rest of the industry, instead of rescinded, it would increase the cost of homes, autos, appliances—" and so on.

"That was the beginning of a paragraph that firmly cut off the steel industry responsibility for inviting more robbing of the U.S. dollar by inflation.

Now to aim that paragraph in a different direction, read the opening this way:

"If the politicians continue deficit treasury spending instead of balancing the government's budget, it would increase the cost of homes, autos, appliances and so on."

The steel industry does not concede that the cost of living must increase if steel prices are raised, it is equally true that the politicians do not concede the equal or greater inflationary course

25 Injured in Chemical Plant Blast

BRANDENBURG, Ky. (AP)—An explosion ripped through several buildings and injured more than 25 employees at the Olin Matheson Chemical Corp. plant today.

Damage was estimated in the millions of dollars. Several fires broke out after the blast occurred. Ten persons were hospitalized. Doctors said none was believed critically hurt.

Poe Street, employee relations manager for the firm, said the noise of the explosion awoke him at his home in Elizabethtown, 30 miles away.

Street said 50 men were in the plant at the time of the explosion. Several of the 20 concrete block buildings on the company's 100-acre layout were destroyed or heavily damaged.

The cause of the explosion was not immediately determined. It occurred at 5:10 a.m.

"It appears to have occurred in the ethylene oxide section of the building in which a compound for antifreeze is produced," Street said.

Youth Hurt Critically in Accident

About 6 p.m. yesterday on Highway 67, about 12 miles west, an auto driven by Jesse Lee Ford, Dallas and a motor scooter ridden by Jerry Leslie, 14, of near Fulton, collided and the youth was critically injured.

Young Leslie, grandson of John Cunningham, suffered a concussion, broken arm and shoulder and a crushed leg. He was rushed to a local hospital by a Herndon-Cornelius ambulance. His condition is critical.

State Policeman Guy Downing, Sheriff Jimmie Griffin and Deputy Prosecutor Al Graves investigated the accident. Officers said the accident occurred when the Texas car attempted to pass the motor scooter on a bridge. Ford was charged with passing on a bridge following the investigation.

Melton May Re-enter on Thursday

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Marvin Melton of Jonesboro scheduled a news conference today for 10 a.m. Thursday. He is expected to announce for governor.

The development put Melton exactly where he was last Thursday when he was planning to announce at a Saturday news conference.

Melton dramatically withdrew from the race Friday, saying popular and financial support for his candidacy had failed to materialize.

His aides said Monday that expressions of support poured into his headquarters over the weekend and Melton began talking again like a candidate.

Melton had a non-political speech scheduled today to a Stuttgart civic club. He said he would discuss industrial development.

Melton is the only potential candidate conducting any before-the-scenes activity this week. Apparently other hopefuls are waiting for a final decision from Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

The governor entered the Ochsen Clinic at New Orleans Sunday for a physical checkup. He indicated before he left Little Rock that he would seek a fifth term if his health is good.

Other prospective candidates either have taken themselves out of the race since it became known Faubus was reconsidering his decision to retire or they have remained quiet.

Another U. S. Worker Fired for Taking Gift

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced today his Senate subcommittee is starting a preliminary inquiry into certain alleged improprieties involving government employees and promoter Billie Sol Estes.

McClellan said the inquiry will determine whether a complete investigation including public hearings is necessary.

"Allegations have been made to the effect that certain responsible government employees might have committed indiscretions in connection with this program," McClellan said in a statement.

He added that in light of recent public disclosures concerning Billie Sol Estes, the subcommittee plans to determine whether a complete investigation is necessary.

Estes is under indictment in Texas on charges of fraud.

Two Agriculture Department officials whose names have come into his case have left the department. One was fired and the other resigned.

Announcement of the firing of the official, William E. Morris, was made Monday by Thomas R. Hughes, executive assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Hughes said that in preliminary questioning Morris, 46, admitted accepting a new hat from the Texas financier.

Morris is the second official linked with Estes to leave the department in four days.

Emory E. Jacobs, deputy director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, resigned Friday after testimony in a Texas court of inquiry that he was friendly with Estes.

Jacobs said on quelling that he had done no wrong and wanted to testify in Texas as a private citizen, not as a department employee.

Morris' firing was announced a short time after two Republican congressmen demanded congressional investigations.

The Republican National Committee said the swiftly developing case "may yet come to rest on the doorstep of the White House."

Estes is under indictment on charges that he obtained millions of dollars worth of mortgages on fertilizer tanks that did not exist. His dealings with the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service involved storage of grain under government loan.

The calls for congressional investigations came from Reps. Florio, P. Dwyer, R-N.J., and Bob Dole, R-Kan. But the House Agriculture Committee chairman Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., said he had decided there was no need for his group to get into the case now.

of deficit financing. The consumer is caught in the middle. Some of the consumers thus caught will be crushed.

First to feel the squeeze will be the pensioners mentioned by President Kennedy, with all others on fixed incomes. Last through the inflationary wringer will be the families whose incomes increase at least as rapidly as the purchasing power of the U. S. dollar shrinks. In the end, none will escape.

That is, none can escape the end result of dollar rotting if government and industry alone or together encourage the dollar rotting trend. In fewer than 25 years the U. S. dollar (1939 value) has shrunk to a real value of less than 50 cents in present purchasing power. The two-bit dollar is not here yet, but it is in sight.

The nickel trolley ride and telephone call have vanished with Tom Marshall's good five-cent cigar. The dollar trolley token, subway or bus ride is something that could happen here.

National defense can be no stronger than the U. S. economy. The nation's economy can be no stronger than its unit of currency. If the economy is tied to a sickly dollar, the national defense is supported by a sickly economy.

At that point it would not be surprising if Nikita Khrushchev could make good on his promise that he would bury us. The chain reaction among currency inflation-national economy-national defense seems to be reasonably obvious.

It must not be obvious to the voters. If it were, the voters would fire the politicians who are spending the United States toward disaster. The voters would do that if the voters were smart.

More Flood Control for Arkansas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Engineers have recommended to Congress that it authorize additional new flood control work along the Mississippi River and its tributaries in Arkansas. The projects would cost more than $20.5 million.

In addition, the engineers said they plan additions, costing over $18 million, to existing Arkansas projects along the Mississippi which will not require any further authorization by Congress.

The recommendations are contained in a recently submitted report on the over-all Lower Mississippi River project after a study which extended over several years.

The report, now being studied by the Budget Bureau, will be considered by Congress in drafting a new water projects authorization bill this year.

New work proposed for Arkansas includes:

Improvement of the south bank Arkansas River levees, federal cost $36,000.

St. Francis Basin — various channel improvements at a federal cost of $11,003,000; improvement of Big Lake fish and wildlife refuge area, $1,694,000.

Lower White River — Improvement of local protection levee and works at Clarendon, $178,000; and channel improvements in Big Creek basin, $7,730,000.

Additional work which Army Engineers said could be undertaken within existing authorizations:

St. Francis basin — improvements below Wappapello Reservoir and various ditch enlargements, $14,598,000.

Cache River Basin — channel clearing in lower 9 miles of Little Cache River and enlarging lower four miles of Little Cache River ditch No. 1, $137,000.

Bayou Moto Basin — additional drainage work for Bayou Moto area and improvement of Indian Bayou, a minor tributary, $3,434,000.

Final Congressional approval is expected this week for the proposed new federal courthouse-postoffice-office building at Pine Bluff, Ark., at a cost of $2,903,000.

Originally, the General Services Administration proposed only a new post office for Pine Bluff but Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark. — who previously had made provision for U.S. district court to sit at that city—persuaded GSA to expand its plans.

16 Refugees From Castro Ask Asylum

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (AP)—Sixteen refugees from Fidel Castro's regime won asylum in the Brazilian Embassy Monday after a city bus driver had smashed his vehicle through two metal fences surrounding the building.

Cuban guards posted around the embassy were too surprised to open fire.

The driver rammed the 35 foot bus through an iron fence at the end of the embassy garden, then tore through a strong steel fence 10 feet beyond.

The passengers, including several women and children, and the driver dashed into a building on the grounds where more than 200 refugees are lodged.

The noise of the crash brought scores of neighbors flocking to the scene.

Witnesses said some of the passengers carried packages and bundles, indicating the coup had been planned in advance. One woman appeared to be pregnant.

Only the bus conductor chose to return to Cuban jurisdiction. "I am a revolutionary," he said as he left the embassy grounds.

An hour after the escape a low truck hauled the big British built bus out of the garden.

It was the second such incident in recent months. Last December another group of fugitives broke into the Ecuadorian Embassy compound in a heavy truck.

Guards opened fire, killing three. The granting of asylum to refugees who make it to a foreign embassy has long been traditional in Latin America.

Invasion of Cuba Year Ago Today

By THEODORE A. EDIGER

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Just a year ago, about 1,500 Cuban exiles invaded their homeland in a daring but unsuccessful effort to oust Fidel Castro.

The expanding and divided exile colony today appears more interested in raising funds to buy the freedom of prisoners taken in that incursion than to buy arms for another move against Castro.

Happiness in much of the colony over the prospect of ransoming all the 1,179 Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners for $62 million—the price set by Castro—is offset by general gloom over fading hope of returning to Cuba soon.

There is less talk at the moment, on the surface at least, of possible anti-Castro military action than perhaps at any time in two years.

The Cuban Revolutionary Council, formed a month before the April 17, 1961, invasion in order to help organize it, still exists. It is the largest of about 200 anti-Castro groups, and the only one maintaining contact with the U.S. government.

Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, its first president, still is at the helm.

Asked for a statement on the invasion anniversary, Miro Cardona declined. Last weekend, while at Miami International Airport to greet 60 ransomed Bay of Pigs prisoners, the council head said merely his attitude was "one of hope."

The most widely held opinion among Miami's 75,000 exiles is that the United States will have to carry a major share of the burden if the Castro regime is to be overthrown.

Rusk Seems Satisfied With Talk

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk was reported today to be moderately satisfied after the first of his talks on Berlin with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin—a talk that was conducted in English without interpreters.

It was also understood that Rusk—after a short cooling off period—has decided to brief the Allies of his conversation with Dobrynin Monday.

This policy of consulting with the Allies on any Berlin move was almost wrecked over the weekend by the news leak from Bonn about U.S. proposals for a new round of Berlin discussions.

Officials here said the leak had jeopardized seriously the Rusk-Dobrynin talks and shaken U.S. confidence in the West Germans.

Both Rusk and Dobrynin described Monday's session as fruitful and businesslike, and officials believe the talks will be resumed shortly, probably later this month.

One purpose of the meeting is to set procedures for future talks—including where and when they will be held.

Officials said Rusk and Dobrynin had agreed tentatively to hold the fourth round of exploratory talks in Washington. Rusk is reported to feel that a fresh start with a new participant on the Soviet side and in a different locale might create a more favorable atmosphere to break the dead lock over Berlin.

The first round was between Rusk and Andrei A. Gromyko, the Soviet foreign minister, in New York last fall. It was followed by conferences in Moscow between Gromyko and U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson. A third round took place in Geneva last month, also between Rusk and Gromyko.

Rusk told his aides he had discussed with the Soviet ambassador his Geneva talks with Gromyko to get a firm footing for future talks.

U.S. officials said privately that the Bonn leak, revealing the Berlin settlement proposals Washington wants to discuss, had annoyed the Kennedy administration—including the President himself.

Bonn, officials said, has been told in unmistakable terms that Washington seriously questions the value of inter-Ally consultations if such things can happen.

While informants confirm that the points mentioned in the Bonn stories are basically correct they also say they represent only a fraction of the issues Rusk could bring up in his talks with Dobrynin.

In brief, the four U.S. proposals are: internalization of the Berlin access route; a nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations and the Communist Warsaw Pact nations; a U.S.-Soviet agreement to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons; and establishment of joint East-West German committees.

Kim, Started by Kipling, a Good Name

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Rudyard Kipling appropriated the name first, for a little boy in his famous story, but currently there are three Kims in show business, all of star caliber and all female.

Sometimes it's confusing. There is Kim Hunter, who usually plays suffering, emotionally distraught ladies, a string of unhappy women that started with Stella in "A Streetcar Named Desire." There is Kim Novak, the screen actress with a passion for mauve that extends even to her hair rinse.

There is Kim Stanley, the blonde, serious-minded method actress who will star in tonight's main television event, a Tad Mosel original drama, "There's Where the Town's Going," on CBS.

Miss Stanley feels that her studies at the Actor's Studio and guidance from Lee Strasberg have helped her immeasurably, but she refuses to be drawn into discussions of the controversial "method."

"All I know is that it works for me," she says.

At a time when many performers are mourning the disappearance of road companies, stock companies and administration of acting opportunities in Hollywood, Miss Stanley believes that young talent has a better chance than ever before.

"There are now more good acting schools for young performers than ever," she says. "And there are more chances to act in off Broadway shows."

Walter Cronkite's admirers—a legion which includes this reporter—may have been a little disappointed Monday night when his first early evening news show on CBS turned out to be pretty much like all other 15 minute news shows.

The real news of the day was, of course, the same as that reported by NBC's Huntley-Brinkley and ABC's Ron Cochran. His one special gimmick was a telephone interview with one of the excommunicated Southerners, with cameras on both ends of the line.

'Freedom' Forum Gets Underway

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—The National Education Program's 23rd annual Freedom Forum gets under way today on the campus of Harding College here.

Some 50 persons registered and attended a reception Monday held at the home of Dr. George S. Benson, president of the college and the NEP.

Another 125 from 24 states are expected at the five-day forum which concludes Friday.

Three films, all aimed at showing the ills of communism were shown Monday following Dr. Benson's reception.

The films were "Communist Blueprint for Conquest," "Albert in Blunderland—Life in a Police State" and "The Devil and John Q — Communist Internal Subversion."

Elston Leonard, president of Fotovox Productions of Memphis, will show the NEP's newest film today, "Communism in Action."

Other speakers today are Dr. Clifton Gamus Jr., vice president of Harding who will discuss "Understanding Our Heritage," Dr. J. D. Bales, professor of Christian doctrine at Harding, "Communism in the Churches."

Edward Hunter, author and former war correspondent, "The Cold War and You," and W. Cleon Skousen, field director of the American Security Council, "How the West Can Win."

Tonight, Lt. Col. William E. Mayer, M.D., an Army neuro-psychiatrist, will speak on "Communist Control of the Individual: The Moral Imperatives."

A panel discussion on "Communist Threat—Within and Without" concludes tonight's schedule. Dr. Bales will be moderator while Mayer, Hunter and Skousen will be panelists.

Eddie V. Rickenbacker, chairman of the board of American Airlines and a famed World War I pilot, opens Wednesday's program with a talk on "Conservation Must Face Up to Liberalism."

The annual cut of timber coming from the state of Oregon is the largest of all the states of the Union, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Bridal lingerie for this year's bride is the prettiest (and most practical) ever. The waltz-length gown, so loved by young brides, is done (left) in a weave of dacron-and-cotton that has the feel of batiste. Antron nylon in a brilliantly printed tricot is used (center) for this hostess coat. Print here is peacock blue on white. Trouseau ensemble in dacron crepe (right) pairs coat with capelet collar and shift gown. Both are embroidered with butterfly motif.

Reader Offers Code for Oldsters

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: While waiting for a guest speaker at our club I overheard some women discussing their parents and in-laws who had moved in. I eavesdropped because my problem is theirs. Both my folks and my husband's have come to live with us—since our house is large enough to make this possible.

We thought it would help reduce expenses, but we didn't reckon with the problem of trying to meld two generations into one.

Being peaceable by nature, the futility of this is wearing me to a frazzle.

The guest speaker proved long winded and I improved the time thinking up a set of rules for oldsters and, after the meeting adjourned, tried them out on the ladies who shared my problem.

They were enthusiastic so I pass the suggestions along with the idea that they may help others confronted by a similar situation.

1. Leave the young people alone once in awhile. They need a certain amount of privacy and, if given it, will be easier to live with.

2. Friends of your sons and daughters, not being of your age group, do not share your interests. Let the young people entertain their own guests. After greeting the visitors retire gracefully to your own room.

3. Learn to give, as well as receive. Bring home a little treat for the kids and their parents every now and then—ice cream or a fresh cake from the bakers, a box of candy, or a bouquet of flowers. No matter how trivial, it's the thought that counts.

4. Don't monopolize the living room. Go to your own quarters after dinner. Let the family enjoy TV, or just being by themselves.

5. Keep your opinions to yourself. You've reared one family. Relax. Let your children rear theirs.

6. Learn to make a life for yourself within the framework of another's home. Behave so that you will be treated as a welcome guest and not a pain in the neck. If you do, you will be loved, respected and wanted all the days of your life. —Long - Suffering Daughter-in-law.

Television in Most Households

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau said Monday 90 per cent of all households had at least one television set in January 1962.

This was a gain of 2 per cent over results of a similar survey conducted in May 1960.

In the latest survey, 13 in every 100 households had two or more television receivers, up from 11 in 100 in 1960.

Students Grade Their Instructors

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The faculty of Trinity College, more used to grading than being graded, is studying today a surprise report card presented by the student body.

Naming names and mincing no words, the 78-page document drew angry reactions from professors who flunked.

"It is inconceivable that the administration should permit publication of such a report," snorted the head of one department described as having a generally poor curriculum.

Another, the Fine Arts Department, was written off as being chiefly concerned with "education of the student for polite conversation."

In general, professors were criticized for being too easy-going. One was "not strict enough"; another "ineffectual."

The study, drawn up under the sponsorship of the college Senate, didn't limit itself to academic matters.

The typical Trinity undergraduate, it said, "does not have any concept of what education involves, nor does he give any indication of wanting to find out."

Despite all, the student critics concluded that Trinity, a private men's college with an enrollment of 950, is still "one of the finest schools in the nation, and this report is an attempt to improve further this institution."

Dr. Albert C. Jacobs, Trinity's president, said the students don't appreciate some of the problems an administrator faces—lack of funds, for instance.

Noting the "considerable maturity of those who wrote it," Jacobs forwarded the lengthy report card, together with footnotes from outraged faculty members, to the college trustees.

To Trial for Shooting Husband

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Mrs. Lucille Bogard, accused in the fatal shooting of her husband, stands trial for the second time in Craighead Circuit Court here today.

In an earlier trial the jury was deadlocked and failed to return a verdict.

She is charged with the death of her husband, Lloyd Bogard, last May 15 at their home.

Pirates Stay Unbeaten by Downing Cubs

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's been a long, uphill climb for Diomedes Olivo, who started out in the Dominican Republic and found the end of the rainbow in Chicago.

That's where the Pittsburgh rookie pitcher came up with the first victory of his major league career—at the age of 42—by hurling strong relief ball while the unbeaten Pirates were defeating Chicago's winless Cubs 6-5 Monday.

Coming on in relief in the fourth inning with the Pirates trailing 4-1, Olivo went 4 1/3 innings, checking the Cubs on four hits and a lone run while Pittsburgh rallied to win it and hand the lanky left-hander his pot of gold. Olivo began his climb from Guayabán, reaching the first plateau eight years ago when he won his first berth in organized baseball with Havana of the International League. He had a trial with the Pirates in 1950 but had no record.

Back with Columbus of the International League last year, Olivo won 11, lost 7 and compiled a 2.01 earned run average that got him another shot with the parent club. Now, when most pitchers are looking forward to a rocking chair, he's just getting started.

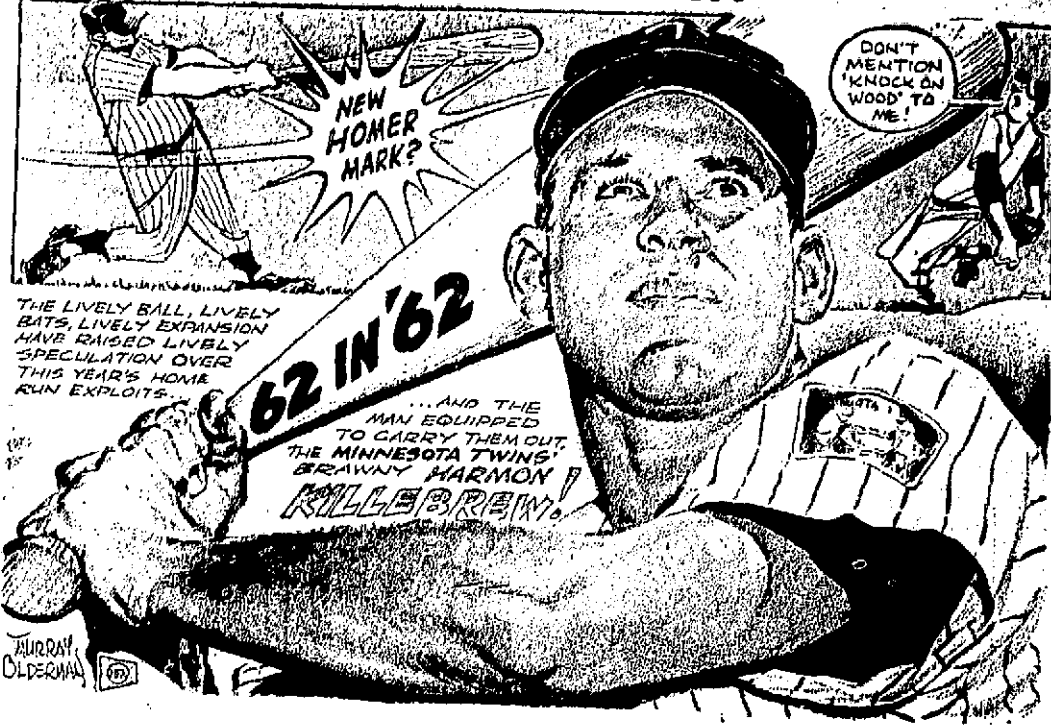

The victory gave the Pirates a 5-0 record. St. Louis remained undefeated, belting Philadelphia 12-6 for victory No. 4. In other games, San Francisco clobbered Los Angeles 19-8 and Cincinnati edged Milwaukee 2-1.

Houston and New York were postponed due to cold weather. There were no games scheduled in the American League.

The Phils and Cards each scored six times in the first inning before a solo homer by Gene Oliver off Don Ferrarese in the third put St. Louis ahead to stay behind the relief pitching of Ernie Broglio. Broglio, who took over in that wild first, limited the Phils to five hits the rest of the way. Oliver was 3-for-5 with two RBI while Bill White and rookie Doug Clemens each drove in three runs. Felipe Alou's solo homer and a two-run shot by Jim Davenport, both off Dodgers starter Stan Williams in the second inning, gave the Giants an edge they never relinquished. Willie Mays also homered for San Francisco, hitting No. 4 with two on in the sixth. The Giants wound up with 12 hits and made the most of 10 walks and three Dodger errors plus a steal of home by Orlando Cepeda. Billy O'Dell was the winner, going the distance although allowing 15 hits.

Jocoy Jay, a 21-game winner who had lost his first two starts, went the distance to gain the victory for the Reds by holding the Braves to eight hits. Frank Robinson accounted for both Cincinnati runs with a bases-loaded double in the sixth that landed the loss to former American Leaguer Bob Shaw.

Judge Files for 5th District

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Chancellor Wiley W. Bean of Clarksville filed today as a candidate for Circuit Judge in the 5th Judicial District.

Bean has been serving as chancellor of the 9th Chancery District since Dec. 4 by appointment. He is ineligible to succeed himself on the Chancery bench.

Circuit Judge Audrey Strait of Morrilton, who has held the 5th District bench for 24 years, announced Saturday he will not seek re-election.

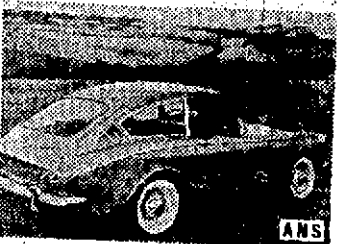

Mills Files for Re-election

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rep. Wilbur Mills of Kensett filed today for reelection to Congress from the 2nd District.

Mills mailed his party and corrupt practices pledges with the $750 filing fee to Secretary of State Nancy Hall. He is the only candidate to file for the position thus far.

Mills was first elected to his post in 1937, after Rep. John Miller resigned to accept a Senate seat. He has served ever since. Arkansas, because of loss of population, had its congressional districts reduced from six to four. In the reorganization, the fifth district of Rep. Dale Alford and the 2nd District were combined. Alford is a candidate for governor.

Researchers Make New Discovery

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Studies of frozen sweat have yielded a possible clue toward uncovering the basic defect in cystic fibrosis, it was reported today.

The researchers who announced this declared the finding might also help improve methods of diagnosing this hereditary disease which begins in infancy and is typified by malnutrition, abnormal functioning of the pancreas, and a proneness for respiratory infection.

Government scientists said they had discovered in human sweat evidence of mucoproteins—complex chemical fractions containing both carbohydrates and protein.

Dr. J. Charles Pallavicini, who presented the report, said mucoproteins from the sweat of cystic fibrosis patients contained a higher-than-normal concentration of a sugar called fucose.

He told about it at the annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology. Co-authors of the report were researchers Olmar Gabriel and Paul A. Di Sant'Agnes. All three scientists are on the staff of the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases, Bethesda, Md.

The report said sweat from 10 normal people and eight cystic fibrosis patients was collected while the subjects were exposed to heat. The sweat was frozen immediately in dry ice to prevent any breakdown by heat-sensitive materials. The ice method allowed a clear separation of the mucoprotein fractions, Pallavicini said.

The scientists explained that cystic fibrosis is an inherited disorder affecting the externally secreting glands of the body, including the sweat, tear, and salivary glands, as well as those associated with the pancreas, small intestines and lungs.

One theory about the disease is that abnormal mucus secreted by these glands causes the gland ducts to become obstructed.

Other researchers showed previously that mucoproteins taken from small-intestine fluid of cystic fibrosis patients contain an abnormally high amount of fucose.

The new research shows that these chemicals are also present in sweat, and that those in cystic fibrosis patients have significant quantities of fucose.

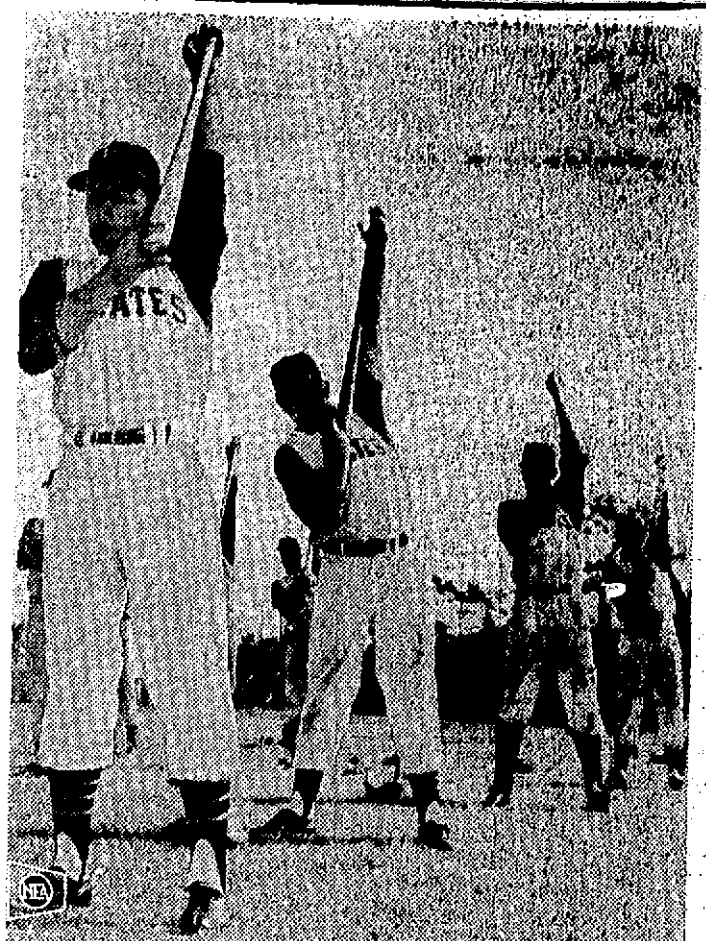

The scientists said this suggests that some defect in the metabolism of mucoprotein may be involved in cystic fibrosis.

New Record Temperature

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The U.S. Weather Bureau here said this morning's low of 33 set a new record.

The previous low temperature on April 16 was 35, set in 1923.

The low for the state today was 23, recorded in Gilbert (Searcy County). Batesville had a low of 28, and Brinkley had a low of 28 this morning.

Waterworks to Declare Dividend

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—General Waterworks Corp. asked the Public Service Commission today for authority to declare a stock dividend.

The company wants to issue three shares of common stock for each 100 shares outstanding. The dividends will total 78,570 shares, the application said.

General Waterworks also asked permission to issue 16,618 shares of voting preferred stock to purchase assets of the Duluth Steam Corp. of Duluth, Minn. The application said General's voting preferred was worth about $45 a share and it would be paying the equivalent of $747,810 for assets of the Duluth company. Worth of these assets was estimated at about $1 million.

General operates water companies at Pine Bluff, England, Fordyce, Hamburg, Morrilton, Elson and Russellville.

Injuries Are Increasing Among Porks

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Faced with increasing injuries, the University of Arkansas football staff decided Monday on a "go easy" practice session the remainder of this week.

The Porkers held a light, two-hour workout Monday and at the conclusion, Coach Frank Broyles had six on the injured list, including quarterback Freddy Marshall who was hurt last week.

Marshall will miss the remaining contact work of the spring practice.

The growing number of injured was attributed by Broyles to tiredness on the part of the squad after last week's workouts.

The team will hold a scrimmage session Friday, similar to last Saturday's, and then adjourn for a two-week Easter vacation.

Practice resumes April 30. Broyles reviewed film of Saturday's session and Monday had high praise for Jim John, a Stuttgart end, tackle Bill Scott of Stillwell, Okla., Jimmy Johnson, a sophomore guard from Port Arthur, Tex., and Ronnie Caveness, a Houston, Tex., linebacker.

The injured, besides Marshall, are:

Wesley Bryant, Texarkana, junior tackle, cut leg, expected back Wednesday.

Harry Sayle, Memphis, sophomore tailback, bruised ribs, expected back Wednesday.

Bobby Roper, Sherman, Tex., sophomore end, knee injury, indefinite.

John Whitaker, DeQueen, sophomore end, wrenched neck, indefinite.
